2-5-10 Year Home Warranty Insurance

Home Warranty Insurance Requirements for New Homes

To increase consumer protection for new home buyers, the Homeowner Protection Act regulations for residential builder licensing and mandatory, third-party home warranty insurance were implemented on July 1, 1999. As a result, all new homes constructed with building permits applied for on or after July 1, 1999 must be built by residential builders licensed with the Homeowner Protection Office (HPO) and covered by a policy of home warranty insurance. In geographic areas where building permits are not required, licensing and home warranty insurance is required for new home construction commenced on or after July 1, 1999.

Home warranty insurance can only be provided by insurance companies that have been approved by the Financial Institutions Commission (FICOM) and meet the requirements of the Homeowner Protection Act. See the HPO's online guide entitled Guide to Home Warranty Insurance in British Columbia for further information.

Standards of coverage, commencement dates, exclusions and limits on coverage are now set by government to ensure clarity and a consistent base-level of consumer protection.

Minimum Standards of Coverage Required: 2-5-10

Home warranty insurance on new homes includes a minimum of 2 years on labour and materials (some limits apply), 5 years on the building envelope, including water penetration, and 10 years on structure. The 2-year labour and materials coverage is broken down as follows:

Any defect in materials and labour:

- 12 months on detached homes and on non-common property in strata units (includes fee simple homes)
- 15 months on common property of strata buildings

Defects in materials and labour related to the delivery and distribution systems (electrical, plumbing, heating ventilation, air conditioning, etc.):

- 24 months for all buildings.

Regulatory Bulletins are a series of publications developed by the Homeowner Protection Office (HPO), a branch of BC Housing, to provide information on and interpretation of the Homeowner Protection Act and regulations. All current regulatory bulletins can be viewed on the HPO website.

General exclusions can include: landscaping; non-residential detached structures (however, parking structures, recreational and amenity facilities in multi-unit buildings are covered); commercial use areas; roads, curbs and lanes (however, driveways are covered); site grading and surface drainage; the operation of municipal services; septic tanks and fields; and water quality and quantity.

Defect related exclusions can include: normal wear and tear; normal shrinkage of materials from construction; use of new home for non-residential purposes; materials, labour and design supplied by the owner; damage caused by anyone other than the residential builder; damage caused by insects or rodents; failure of an owner to prevent or minimize damage and acts of nature.

Homeowners can search the HPO's online Residential Construction Performance Guide to help determine whether a possible defect in design, labour or materials in their new home may be covered by home warranty insurance. Visit the HPO website to view this guide.
